

Due to reform in Junior Cycle and changes in the current educational landscape, all classes are now required to run for a minimum time of 40 minutes. As some of our classes are currently 35 minutes in length, this has afforded us the opportunity to reflect on and amend our timetable.

As a consequence, the composition of our school day will change. Beginning with the 2017 / 2018 academic year, school will start each day at 8.55am. On Mondays and Tuesdays, school will end at 4pm. For the remainder of the week school will end at 3.20pm. As you may already be aware, this is broadly in line with other secondary school in Clonmel.

The table below outlines the new composition of our school day in further detail.
